

URW Beats Proposal Set By Local 336

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 16 — A proposal by Firestone Local 336, United Rubber Workers (CIO), Pottstown, was defeated today by delegates of the international URW convention.

By an overwhelming voice vote, delegates turned down an amendment which provided the international union pay one-half the expenses incurred by local unions in contract negotiations.

The proposal was made in the form of an amendment to the URW constitution by Martin J. Higgins Jr., one of 14 Local 336 delegates attending the convention.

The Pottstown local voted at a meeting this past Aug. 17 to propose the amendment. The amendment was not approved by the international's laws committee in its report to the convention.

Other action at the convention included an address by Allan Haywood, executive vice president and general organization director of the CIO, and action on 49 amendments.

THE POTTSTOWN amendment read:

"Whereas the local unions of the United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America (CIO), have had hardships created by local unions entering into contract negotiations which tax local treasuries beyond their means and weaken them to a great extent.

"And whereas it has been necessary for the local union to meet

Farmers Look Ahead to Good Corn Harvest

By the beginning of golden October, area corn fields will be creeping with the clatter-clatter-clatter of the corn picker.

In spite of a mid-Summer drought and a damaging wind and rain storm Labor Day, the corn harvest promises to be bountiful this fall.

Today the weatherman promises the kind of weather which will make the farmer smile — it will be clear and dry.

William H. Gerhart, Gilbertsville RD 1, said, "The corn crop will be fine unless we get an early frost. We need a little warm weather yet. In about three weeks I'll have the picker making the rounds."

WILLIS S. HETRICK, Pottstown RD 4, reported, "I expect better than an average crop of corn from my 20 acres. It'll be about three weeks before I begin picking."

Daniel Evans, Royersford RD 1, retired farmer, who still keeps his hand busy by helping his son, Marvin, said, "We have pretty good corn this year. I'd say it will be an average crop."

Lester H. Yocum, Pottstown RD 2, asserted, "Our corn looks pretty good. It will be a normal crop, but I guess the drought didn't do it any good."

Over the State a bumper corn harvest is predicted.

John M. Stocker, 33, Runnemede, N. J., was sentenced by Montgomery County Judge E. Arnold Forrest for the window-smashing burglary of Royal Jewelry store, 251 High Street, on June 30, 1951.

Picket Line Begins

35 Women Go on Strike At Plant Here

Thirty-five women walked off their jobs at the S and L Sportswear company, York and Walnut streets, early yesterday afternoon.

Pickets from the Textile Workers Union (CIO) were in front of the idle plant last night.

Mary Barbara, plant manager of the dress manufacturing company, said last night, "The plant was closed on an order from Frost (Samuel Frost, TWU international representative) because I let two girls go yesterday morning."

"I had to let the girls go because I had no work for them. Frost told me I cannot hire and cannot fire employees."

TWO MEMBERS at the plant have voted for a union shop in a National Labor relations Board election.

The plant manager said the employees should join the Garment Workers union (AFL). She said management had been in negotiations with the AFL and added, "I don't see how dressmakers fit into the CIO."

She said Frost had promised to wait until Friday to call the strike and promised to wait until she could contact the plant owner, Samuel Leberman, New York City.

"I sent a telegram to him last night. I haven't heard from him yet," she added.

Frost could not be reached at his home or office for comment, up to early this morning.

Court Upholds Liens Against Porter's Land

Two sewer liens against the 22-acre tract of Dr. J. Elmer Porter, Pottstown physician and political leader, were sustained yesterday in a Montgomery county court decision.

President Judge Harold G. Knight, in his summary of the running legal battle between the borough and Dr. Porter, said the liens against the property still stand.

Judge Knight's decision was based on testimony presented in argument court earlier this month.

The borough filed the lien against Dr. Porter's property in default of a $4536 sewer bill.

Dr. Porter was sent a bill by registered mail April 23, 1950. Payment was due in 30 days.

BOROUGH SOLICITOR C. ED. MUND WELLS filed a claim on May 28, 1951 against the land. The battle has been waged in court since then.

Wells explained last night the Pottstown physician is at the end of the line as far as technical attack against the sewer lien is concerned. His lone legal recourse would be to fight the case on its merits.

The liens were placed against Dr. Porter's property after two sewers were laid through his land. He attacked them on a number (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Hit-Run Driver Pauses in Chase, Is Caught, Fined

A hit-run driver who made the mistake of surveying his car's damage while Jeffersonville State Trooper John D. Lutz was on his trail was fined $100 and costs yesterday in Montgomery County court.

William R. Kern, Hyde Villa, near Reading, pleaded guilty before Judge William F. Dannehower in the courthouse in Norristown.

The past May 19, the State trooper testified, he saw Kern's fast-moving car hit a car driven by John Sisak, 780 Queen street, on Route 422 in (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Norco Firemen Start Fund Drive

Norco Fire company yesterday opened its drive for public contributions toward the $30,000 it is seeking to build a fire house.

Robert R. Leimbach, treasurer, announced that 1000 letters were sent to men in North Coventry township, signed by Ralph Newhall, financial secretary.

The company was organized in March, 1951. The company has purchased a five-acre tract along Route 83, west of Route 100, on which it plans to build an all-brick building that will include a two-vehicle garage, social room and meeting hall.

Car Hits Stone Wall, Driver Dies at Wheel

A 37-year-old Yorkes mechanic was pronounced dead on arrival at Montgomery hospital, Norristown, at 6:25 o'clock last night after his automobile careened off Route 422 on Mile Hill, Lower Providence township, and crashed into an 18-inch thick stone wall.

John R. Plaine Jr., the driver, was pronounced dead by Dr. Arthur Sullivan, of the hospital staff. Both Dr. Sullivan and Coroner W. J. Rushong believed last night that Plaine had died of a heart attack rather than as a result of the accident.

Leading to this belief was the fact two small bumps on the dead man's head evidently were his only injuries. Rushong will conduct an autopsy this morning to determine the cause of death.

Two Pottstown men, Robert J. Miller, 401 Chestnut street, and Thomas W. Soudsby, 214 King street, a passenger in Miller's auto, witnessed the accident. They were driving toward Pottstown behind Plaine.

THEY TOLD Lower Providence Police Chief David Burns that Plaine was traveling about 40 to 50 miles an hour when his car veered to the right off the road, just missing a utility pole.

Plaine's auto sped over 210 feet of a weed-grown field, a truck patch and a lawn before crashing into the 5-foot high wall. The front end of the car rested atop the wall after the crash.

The wall surrounds the porch of the home of John J. Cameron, Collegeville RD 2. He and his family were startled by the noise of the accident. None of the family was on the porch at the time. The wall is set back 25 feet from the highway.

Cameron summoned the Montgomery hospital ambulance and Chief Burns. Jeffersonville State Police happened on the scene, but departed after giving what aid they could, leaving the investigation to Chief Burns.

Plaine, found lying on the floor of the auto, was enroute home to his wife and 5-year-old son from work when the accident occurred.

He was employed at the Cassel and Undercuffer service station in Norristown. The firm also operates a fleet of taxis.

Marriage Is Theme Of Climbers Class Anniversary Party

The Climbers class of the Trinity Evangelical Congregational church sponsored a wedding anniversary party at the church over the weekend.

The highlight of the party was a one-act play entitled "She Married the Minister." The play was a mystery-comedy in which a young minister who was planning to be married kept the identity of his bride a secret from the members of his church. The women of the congregation made all the plans for the wedding and gave all of the menial tasks to a young girl who usually had to do all the uninteresting work that no one else desired.

The climax was reached when the girl appeared before the congregation attired in a wedding gown and took her place beside the bridegroom.

Those who participated in the play were: Mrs. Wilhelm, Jean Hook, Mrs. Helen Koch, Phyllis Kranch, Grace Porter, Emma Rose Hayes, Mrs. Eleanor Herzog, Arlene Schaeffer, Jacqueline McCormick, Judith Knight, Thelma March and Mrs. Lois Lezzi.

Between the scenes of the play a monologue entitled "The Preacher Came" was given by Mrs. Walter Dunlap.

Three vocal solos were also given by Mr. Samuel Porter.

Following the play Rev. Floyd asked all the couples in the congregation to rise and join hands while he read the marriage ceremony, thus the couples made a renewal of their marriage vows.

Gifts were then given to the couple who had been married the longest time. Mr. and Mrs. Ferny Koch; and the couple who had been married the longest time, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomas.

After the program the couples were served refreshments by the cast of the play at tables decorated for each anniversary year from the first to the fiftieth.

Pottsgrove Fire Auxiliary Stages Banquet, Hoedown

The Upper Pottsgrove Fire company's auxiliary made plans for three festive occasions at the meeting Monday night.

October's meeting will be an annual banquet at Lakeside Inn, 8:30 o'clock, Oct. 20. All who plan to attend are urged to contact Mrs. Stella Mock, 3242-W, by Oct. 11. Transportation will be provided. A second meeting during the month, Oct. 25, will be a square dance in the fire house.

The fire house again will be the convening point on voting day, Nov. 4, when a spaghetti supper will be served from 4 to 9 o'clock. At that time the cabinets and counter which the women are having built in the hall will be finished.

Games, in charge of Mrs. Grace Swenson, were played; prizes were awarded to Mrs. Stella Mock and Mrs. Mazie Rhoads. Mrs. Cleta Werkheiser, a guest, won the pig-in-the-box. Hostesses, Mrs. Stella Mock and Mrs. Betty Binsfield, served refreshments.

Auxiliary meetings, it was announced, would be held the third Monday of every month.

Hot cheese rolls taste good with a cooked vegetable salad for Sunday night supper. To prepare, slit frankfurter rolls and spread with nippy cheese; press together again, wrap in aluminum foil and heat thoroughly in a hot oven. Serve right in the foil.

Handsome Handbag

We've been insisting for years, and we intend to go right on insisting, that there's little we have seen from abroad that is better than our own fine leather handbags. When it comes to good styling of the lasting, classic type, fine construction, and careful handwork of superb leathers, America is right there on top. Spurt in Production Predicted for South If Coal Strike Hits

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP) — Industry sources said today a big spurt in southern coal production could be expected beginning next week if John L. Lewis goes ahead with his threatened shutdown of northern mines next Monday.

The Dixie mines, operating now only two or three days a week, probably will go to a full five-day week production if the northern mines are shut down.

Lewis has staggered the contract expiration dates of his United Mine Workers union so that the agreements end next Saturday for members of the Bituminous Coal Operators association, representing the bulk of the northern mines, while pacts with the Southern Coal Producers association end ten days later, on Sept. 30.

Members of the southern association, it was reported today, generally plan to take advantage of the situation to make money while they can.

THE SOUTHERN group, however, expects a strike on Oct. 1 if no agreement can be reached with union leader Lewis by then, or if no agreement has been reached between the union and the northern operators.

It is traditional in the industry that when one large group of mine owners signs up with Lewis, the other operators quickly come to the same terms, because each group fears losing its customers to a rival.

Council Membership Is Urged for British

STRASBOURG, France, Sept. 16 (AP) — Paul Reynaud of France today welcomed Britain's collaboration with the proposed European confederation, and urged the British to consider eventual membership in it.

Reynaud, a former premier, hailed British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's explanation yesterday of his plan for coordinating European agencies within the Council of Europe framework. He said Eden had "dissipated many anxieties" that Britain intended to handicap the development of European federation.

Surveying world economic and military conditions, Reynaud told his colleagues in the Council's consultative assembly: "We have heard and we understand Britain's reasons for staying outside a European confederation. But I say her reasons for entering it are one hundred times heavier than the reasons for staying out, and she will realize this one day soon."

FAIRCHILD SEES VICTORY CHANCE OVER MC CARTHY

Democratic Opponent Makes Statement After Stevenson Conference

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 16 (AP) — Thomas Fairchild, GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's Democratic opponent in the Wisconsin U. S. Senate race, said today he has "a very good fighting chance" to defeat McCarthy in November.

Fairchild made the statement to newsmen after conferring with Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Fairchild declined to say whether Stevenson shared his optimism. He said Stevenson would have to speak for himself on that.

McCarthy, whose Communist-in-Government charges have stirred a storm of controversy, won re-nomination overwhelmingly in the past week's Wisconsin primary.

FAIRCHILD WON the Democratic nomination in a close race against Henry Reuss, McCarthy's GOP opponent in the primary. Leonard Schmitt, and Reuss have pledged support to Fairchild in the November election.

Fairchild told a news conference he had invited Stevenson to campaign in Wisconsin.

RUSSIA USES EXCUSE

Grip on Manchuria Maintained

HONG KONG, Wednesday, Sept. 17 (AP) — The Moscow agreement announced Tuesday shows Russia maintains her grip on Manchuria using an alleged military threat by Japan as an excuse for holding Port Arthur indefinitely.

It will surprise no seasoned observer here to learn — once the whole story is told — that Russia emerges with a greater share than ever in that broad and rich region it has coveted since Czarist days.

Russia appears to have made a major concession by giving up control of the Changchun railway, the main line of transportation in Manchuria. The line supposedly has been jointly operated with China.

This undoubtedly is only so much face-saving for Russia's Red Chinese ally. Port Arthur is the coastal terminal of the railway. Undoubtedly, Russia retains freight hauling privileges.

IN ANY case, the fact remains that Russia stays in Manchuria whereas it promised in 1950 to clear out by the end of this year.

The pretext for staying was framed this way: Red China's premier, Chou En-Lai, asked the Russians to keep a garrison in Port Arthur because of the "danger" of renewed aggression from a re-arming Japan.

Iran Premier Seeks To Prolong Oil Talks

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 16 (AP) — Premier Mohammed Mossadegh backed down today from his refusal to consider World court arbitration of British compensation claims and sought to keep negotiations going for solution of the 10-month oil nationalization dispute.

But observers doubted these slightly conciliatory gestures had brought a solution any nearer.

The Majlis (lower house of Parliament) gave him 60-0 vote of confidence in his entire oil policy—including his threat of

The typhoon winds reached 163.5 miles per hour at Wake before the measuring instruments were blown away, reported Honolulu Weather Bureau Forecaster Don Gould. He said it was the first typhoon in 11 years to hit the island, and the worst in his memory.

TORRENTIAL RAINS still beat down today but were easing enough to permit emergency landing at the airfield.

The first relief plane to reach the devastated island was a Navy Martin Mariner flying boat from Kwajalein. It brought a load of emergency rations and blankets this morning, Hawaiian time.

A Pan American strato-cruiser, three military transports and the Civil Aeronautics authority transport from Honolulu followed close behind heavily laden with drinking water, food and tents. Wake's limited water supply was ruined when the seas rose over the island.

Rear Admiral Stuart S. Murray, commander of the Hawaiian sea frontier, ordered the evacuation of about 500 persons, including 75 women and children as soon as possible. Murray is directing the Wake relief and rescue operation.

Eight planes were caught at Wake when the storm broke yesterday. Two of them were military air transport C-54s which blew out tires when vicious cross winds wrenched the crafts on landing.

IKE INTERRUPTS TOUR, RETURNS TO NEW YORK

Whistle Stopping Halted; General Will Address AFL; He Enjoyed Trip

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower, temporarily interrupting a 12-day whistle stop campaign tour which brought him a rousing reception in Minneapolis and St. Paul today, flew back to New York tonight for an address to the AFL tomorrow.

Reporters who met him at La Guardia airport upon his arrival at 9:20 p. m. (Pottstown time) asked if he had enjoyed the first two days of the railroad tour.

"It was a lot of fun," replied Eisenhower.

"Was it a successful trip?" reporters inquired.

"I DON'T KNOW," he said, adding: "You'll have to ask the experts."

After posing briefly for reporters, Eisenhower went to his Columbia university residence for the night.

Greeting him at the airport were Arthur A. Vandenberg Jr., executive assistant in the Republican presidential campaign, and Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania and a campaign adviser. Stassen told reporters he would make a few speeches for the general later on.

Eisenhower got a whopping big reception before taking off on the flight here.

Ticker tape and confetti showered upon him during a triumphal ride in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Strike Called Off

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 16 (AP) — Two unions reached tentative agreement with the fire-brick industry today and called off strikes of nearly 30,000 workers scheduled for this week-end.

New contracts, said spokesmen for both industry and unions, will follow the pattern set in the recent national steel settlement, but will not include a modified union shop clause.

Workers will get a 16-cent hourly across the board raise plus fringe benefits increasing the total package value to 21½ cents. Present average wage rates were not disclosed.

The industry said it put the increase into effect last midnight and that the workers will get 13 weeks retroactivity.
The United Construction Workers District 50, United Mine Workers, had been set to strike at 12:01 a. m. Friday and the AFL United Brick and Clay Workers at the same hour Saturday.

Man Is Killed

The pilot, also killed, was Flying Officer Antony Ellwood, 29, son of Royal Air Force Air Marshal Sir Aubrey Ellwood.

The plane struck the ground and was torn to pieces while Ellwood was making a low-level run.

ROADMASTER

CUSTOM BUILT BY BUICK

BENEATH that big broad bonnet is the reason for this headline.

It's a four-barreled automatic carburetor—Airpower by name—which has a way of gulping in what the dictionary defines as "a sudden blast of wind" when extra power is needed.

And the way this gorgeous performer can step out as this occurs is something you'll always remember.

For ordinary driving, two barrels are all you need — and two barrels are all that are working. They give you an extra thrifty flow of fuel for round-town cruising.

When extra power is wanted in a hurry — the "reserves" swing into action — feeding extra fuel and extra air in an ever-thrifty mixture, which delivers the greatest horsepower in Buick history.

This is one of many distinctions that endear ROADMASTERS to fine-car owners.

It's a car as rich in finish as it is in power — a car of expansive room — restful silence — level in gait — beautifully responsive to your mood and will.

And it offers the effortless ease of Power Steering* especially engineered by Buick to save your strength in parking and slow-motion maneuvers, and still let you feel a proud sense of command and a sure sense of control on the highway.

There's just one question we'd like to ask: When are you going to come in and enjoy the ride of your life?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER and SUPER only.

Applicants Claiming First Unemployment Aid Down in August

A decrease from 1434 initial claims for unemployment benefits in July to 830 in August was reported by the Pottstown office of the Pennsylvania State Employment service yesterday in its "Labor Market Letter."

The report adds, however, claims for weeks of unemployment increased from 2289 in July to 3432 in August because of a large number of temporary lay-offs during July.

Margaret H. King, manager of the office, said in the letter that 512 persons actively sought employment at the office at the end of August. Of that group, she said, 218 were women and 213 men. Eighty veterans were included.

Most of those applying were in the semi-skilled group. Skilled workers who applied were primarily from specialized fields with limited opportunities in this area.

EMPLOYMENT DURING August amounted to approximately 18,500, about the same as May. The figure was lower during June and July because of the steel strike.

Employment data obtained from employers in the Pottstown area by the State employment service indicated that many of their employees are on a 40-hour-week schedule with overtime involved in some cases.

The current labor demands of industry are in diversified skills. An increase has been noted for sewing machine operators, mostly in the knit goods industry.

CONSTRUCTION WORK has not absorbed new workers as in past years because it has relied on part-time workers from employed groups working short weeks and those in a temporary lay-off status.

Employers of construction workers see no change in the balance of the level of employment in that industry for the remainder of the construction season.

Post War High Draft Is Reported for State

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania's draft quota for November was set today at a post-World War high of 6204 men.

Lt. Col. Frank Graf, assistant State draft director, said up to 10,000 men will be summoned for physical examinations next month to meet the induction quota.

The highest quota since the out-break of the Korean hostilities, he said, is due mainly to separa-tions from the service of men in-ducted in the early days of the Korean War.

No one under 20 will be drafted under the quota, he said. College deferments and those for married men with children also will likely be un-affected, Graf explained.

Graf also disclosed that a back-log of 6000 men who have been examined and found acceptable will provide most of the men needed for the November quota.

New physical examinations next month, he said, are needed to maintain the size of the pool.

"There was no discussion of the use of Yugoslav bases,"

Man Held in Connection With Home Explosion
PULASKI, Va., Sept. 16 (AP)—Leroy Knott of Somerset county was arrested by police here today in connection with an explosion that damaged the home of Joseph Karem, Uniontown, Pa. Knott, by Lt. Earl Bouldin and Barber, Sept. 6. Knott waived extradition and was being returned to Uniontown by Detectives James Mahoney and Frank Kane and State Trooper Robert Hackett, all of Uniontown. The arrest was made at the home of Knott's brother, Richard home here.

Uniontown authorities had alerted local police to be on the lookout for Leroy Knott on the chance he might come to his brother's home here.

First Hunting Casualty To Eat Off the Mantle
LIMA, Ohio, Sept. 16 (AP)—Open letter to a nearsighted squirrel hunter: Dear Sir: Old Grover is a horse, not a squirrel. He is a quiet animal that likes nothing better than to graze on the farm of J. A. Mawhoor, southeast of Lima. Squirrels are little animals. Old Grover is a big animal. In your near-sightedness yesterday, sir, you confused old Grover with a squirrel. First you unloaded some No. 6 shot into old Grover's left front quarter. This convinced old Grover that you came with no good intentions. So, he started to get out of there faster than he's moved for years, by their gadget—and burglarizing. The only trouble was, he couldn't move as fast as a squirrel, so you unloaded another dose of No. 6 shot into old Grover's east end. Old Grover was moving west at the time. You sort of got old Grover coming and going, as it were, making him the hunting season's first casualty. P. S. Old Grover's eating his hay standing up today.

2 in N. Y. Invent Gadget For Locks, Locked Up
NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP)—Fred Kroenke, 34, and Harry Wetherell, 24, invented a gadget to safeguard doorlocks from burglars and set out to market them door to door at $1 apiece. But business was bad. Today they were arrested, accused of picking locks—unprotected faster than he's moved for years, by their gadget—and burglarizing 12 to 18 Brooklyn homes.

Mouse Plunged to Death By Housewife's Device
RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Rodney Harman saw a mouse yesterday. She propped up the suction cup on a plumber's handled plunger, put some cheese under it and waited. The mouse co-operated. It went for the cheese, tripped the prop, trapped itself and was plunged to death.

Moose Ties Softball Playoff

The City Softball league playoffs were extended to the limit last night as Moose pulled back into a tie by edging past PAR, 4-3.

The Refiners had their home run clothes on but a fine relief job by Al Roen gave Moose the victory and evened the series at two games each. The fifth and final contest will be played tonight to decide the playoff championship.

Spartans Need Spirit To Register Repeat

EAST LANSING, Mich. — The winning ways of such Michigan State representatives as Robin Roberts in baseball and Chuck Davey in boxing drew a hometown counterpart last year when the Spartans football forces, on the upgrade for several years, cake-walked through a nine-game major football schedule and finished with national championship acclaim.

Clarence L. (Biggie) Munn, the personable Man behind the Men in Molekines on this beautiful campus, simply put together enough young aggressive football players and, taking a leaf from the sports record books engraved by Roberts and Davey, purveyed that Spartan Spirit into the squad and came up with a winner—the first undefeated Michigan State team in 38 years.

It's a new campaign now, though, and although the Michigan State grads, Roberts and Davey, keep on winning, Biggie hasn't the full complement of weapons he had last season and despite national predictions, it's going to be a rough one for the Spartans, if any are looking for another all-winning season.

This is no pessimistic outlook on the Green and White for Biggie's forces still are loaded in quality and quantity, if not in stature.

THAT SPARTAN SPIRIT must have worked overtime last year for the team came on to win six games in which it was either tied or behind. The Spartans' big inspirational life, of course, came when they cleaved the Irish of Notre Dame and then went on to take both Michigan and Ohio State on successive Saturdays on their home grounds, a feat which the Michigan State tub-thumper, Fred Biggie, is proud to repeat.

Biggie, who has 27 lettermen and back from a squad of 69, lost a pretty fair sort of offensive unit, but the squad size stuns you for one of the outstanding tackles of recent years, Don Coleman, by the usual route of time and education. However, he's not pessimistic for these youths can go and they mistic, despite the high ratings can hit.

Maybe Rough Time Ahead for MS

Baumholtz Hot
NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Frankie Baumholtz of the Chicago Cubs is making a belated bid to wrest the National League batting lead from Stan Musial. The 32-year-old outfielder, who led the Pacific Coast league with a .379 mark in 1950, climbed 13 points last week to .325 and moved within striking distance of Musial's .335 slate.

of the distance.

PAR took the lead in the third inning when Lou Mack led off with a home run. Chuck Klaus followed a short time later with a double and completed the circuit when Dan Glutz let the ball go through in left field for a two-base error.

SHANER'S four-ply blast to right field in the fourth deadlocked the game for one inning.

In the fifth, Jim Ottaviano drove in Ralph Gonder with a single. Ottaviano's hit was a single and he moved into scoring position to tally on Shaner's fly for the clincher.

Edleman's long homer to center field was a threatening gesture, but it was the closest PAR could come.

Mack, in addition to winding a heavy bat, hustled a good game for the losers, allowing only three hits. But Moose took advantage of every PAR mistake to tie the series.

WILL RICHARDS started on the hill for Moose, but the Refiners' third-inning uprising prompted his removal. Roen came in and PAR found his fast stuff too much to handle. At six o'clock on nine batters and didn't give up a walk.

Moose had hoped to save Roen for tonight's game, although he may be called up to pitch the "big" one anyhow. A possible choice for PAR is Hank Johnson.

Rickey Nixes Sale of Kiner

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 16 (AP)—A report that home-run slugger Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates may play for an unnamed Eastern team in 1953 was pooh-poohed today by general manager Branch Rickey.

Chilly Doyle, baseball writer for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, said in a dispatch from Brooklyn that Rickey also was thinking about slicing a portion off Kiner's pay, if the big Californian is signed for the Pirates next year.

But Rickey said of the reported move: "I have not given anything of the kind any thinking."

Although Kiner has a good chance of winning the National League home run championship for his seventh consecutive year, his batting average is a relatively low .247. That's the poorest since Kiner's first year with the Bucs, when he posted .244.

Doyle Said Kiner might have to take a pay cut because of his fielding, throwing and running. He added: "His 1952 pay check of $65,000 might be equalled by one or two clubs, particularly the Dodgers, if they should deal for him."

Roy Campanella Found Suffering Blood Poisoning

BROOKLYN, Sept. 16 (AP)—Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's All-Star catcher, was found suffering from blood poisoning in his left arm just before the Dodgers' game with the Pittsburgh Pirates tonight and was removed to Long Island College hospital.

Campanella, who had been in the starting lineup tonight, had Dr. Eugene Zorn examine a hang nail which bothered him after fielding practice. Dr. Zorn discovered tell-tale streaks up the fingers of the hand and ordered Campanella to the hospital immediately.

Dr. Zorn said that injections will clear up the infection within 48 hours and that Campy may be able to catch Friday in Boston.

Paul Streziecki, upon whose broad shoulders rest the fate of the West Pottsgrove Falcons, flashes the sturdy legs that will carry him through five enemy lines this Fall. The 175-pound fullback will operate both on offense and defense for coach Charlie Kasmerovitz.

Kickers Buck Wind

The theory learned in Monday's classroom drill by the Pottstown High Trojans, was put into application as the weather cleared yesterday for an important outdoor practice.

With the season's first game only three days away, Coach Heber T. Meyers put his regulars through punting and defensive formation. Taking advantage of the elements, Meyers had kickers Josh Sova, Al Bodolus and Don Stetler booting into a brisk wind.

Second string linemen applied plenty of pressure as the kickers tried to keep the ball low into the stiff breeze.

Using a defensive team that could very likely start against Lansdale Friday night, Meyers watched it stop the offense in its tracks.

The defensive team averaged 172 pounds with the line hitting the beam at 175 and backs at 168.

Across the forward wall was Don Monroe, 154; Ron Downie, 190; Milt Wentzel, 183; Bill Fisher, 158; Bob Sutton, 165, and Jack Bechtel, 160.

RAY DONNELLY, 185, and Carl Stahl, 165, backed up the line, and Jack Babel, 180, Howie Bedell, 160, and Al Bodolus, 150, guarded against passes. A possible change in this backfield alignment could be Paul Stofko, who was missing yesterday, in place of Babel, the regular offensive center.

Harold Rosenberger, just recovered from a back ailment, limped out the scrimmage with a bruised leg. Bill Kerr is still hobbled by a shoulder injury that will keep him out of the Lansdale game.

Visitor's Corgi Earns Ribbon In Berks Show

Dunreath Butch, an imported male Welsh corgi, won his initial first prize Sunday at the Berks county dog show at Gene Venke's home west of Pottstown.

In competition with five other corgies, Dunreath captured the blue ribbon in his first show. He was shown by Mrs. Len Weiss of Hollywood, Fla., who, along with her husband, is visiting Mrs. Oliver Weiss of 477 North Evans street, Pottstown.

Dunreath is owned by the Colonel William kennel of Lexington, Ky., and will likely next be shown at the Miami dog show next month. The Weisses are returning South later this week.

The corgi is an imported dog and one is currently the house pet of England's Queen Elizabeth.

Warren Hacker of the Chicago Cubs is runner-up to Wilhelm with a 2.48 average. The Cubs' right-hander has given up 45 earned runs in 163 innings.

Karl Dews of the Phils ranks third with a 2.59 ERA, followed by teammate Robin Roberts with 2.60. Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger is fourth with a 2.74 average.

Reynolds, the American League pace-setter, has been the Yankees' pitching mainstay while recording 18 victories against eight setbacks. The 34-year-old "Chief" has five shutouts to his credit and tops the league in strikeouts with 147.

Mike Garcia, Cleveland's hard-working right-hander, is second to

West Pottsgrove To Play 5 Games

Just how far can Paul Streziecki carry the West Pottsgrove Falcons? The answer to that question will be told in the Stowe high school's five-game schedule.

Originally slated to play six games, the Falcons saw their brief program made even shorter when Pennsburg joined forces with East Greenville and discontinued its schedule.

Coaches Charlie Kasmerovitz and his assistant Bill Keays are hoping that the all around play of Streziecki can make up for the lack of players, both in size and number that comprise the Falcons squad.

Working in the fullback post, the 175-pound Streziecki looks to be well as at the top offensive threat as well as a bulwark on defense.

With the opening game still more than a week away—Jenkintown plays here Saturday, Sept. 27—Kasmerovitz has been using both the T and single wing. He will rely on an unbalanced line in both formations.

Along with Streziecki, Rog Reider, Dale Neiman and Leidy Gaugler have shown up as the best as offensive backs. Gaugler has been the ball-handler in the T, but Neiman will do the bulk of the passing.

Leroy and Lloyd Carpenter appear to have the starting end posts clinched. Big Roy Mest and Sammy Daub have the edge at tackle, and Paul Fontano is a good bet to start at the strong side guard spot. The other guard position is being battled for by Ted Fontano and Dale Schneider.

DICK KLICK has looked good at center. Most of the players mentioned will play both offense and defense as the Falcons roster includes only about 20 players.

Several reserves have been improving to the satisfaction of the coaches.

Dale Wert is being groomed as a T quarterback and shows potentialities. John Demeter, a ninth grader who reported yesterday, is big and fast and stood out in his first scrimmage as a hard-running back.

Dick Bechtel and Paul Yarmush are the other backfield replacements.

Of the second string linemen, Dick Frey and Frank Gambino stand the best chance of winning a starting assignment before the season ends.

Others working in the line are Ron Matthews, Bill Regan, Jack Detsline and Cal Tapman.

The Falcons open with Jenkintown at home on Saturday Sept. 27. They meet Schwenksville away and Collegeville home sandwiched around a road date with West Reading. There's a three-week break between the tiffs with the Bluebirds and WR.

NORTH COVENTRY provides the customary suburban crown closer on Nov. 15, away.

A seven-game girls hockey card was also released by the school along with the grid list.

The Falconettes draw the shroud off their season tomorrow afternoon, meeting Collegeville away in the first of four visits to loop members.

The girls season ends on Nov. 6 when they play host to powerful Boyertown.

Spring City Plays Pair of Night Games

Spring City will play more night games this year than ever before as Eben Cleveland, freshman head mentor of the Pirates, starts his first turn at the helm.

The Bucs play two nocturnal tiffs, taking on Shillington in Albright stadium next Friday in one and meeting Norco on Thursday, Oct. 30, on the Cats' grid in the other.

HAYWOOD DELIVERED A

scathing indictment of the Republican party in his two-hour address to the 17th annual convention.

His talk was full of biting remarks about the GOP candidate and the record of the party under Republican presidents as far back as Warren G. Harding.

He praised the Democrats for gains made in unionism during their terms in office.

During his talk Haywood turned his guns on Senator Richard M. Nixon, GOP vice presidential aspirant, who he said has a bad voting record in Congress.

He said he was as much opposed to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, GOP presidential candidate, as he was to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate, directing military operations in Korea.

IN CONCLUSION, he said, "Your union represents a crusade of tolerance and unionism. It is a shining light in the building of democracy. It is the best answer to Communism. It is government returned to the people. It is a guarantee for the better things in life for our workers. Let us go down the road together, for indeed, we are our brothers' keepers."

At the business session action was completed on 49 amendments to the constitution proposed by various locals throughout the country.

It was expected a number of resolutions will be submitted at the convention today.

survey Sept. 1, the State Department of Agriculture reported drought-breaking rains came to most areas early in August.

Late rains at well-spaced intervals assured satisfactory development of late-maturing crops. Condition of pastures, new seedlings and late-cutting hays was much improved over Aug. 1.

DESPITE THE Labor Day storm, the predicted corn yield has been increased approximately 360,000 bushels.

Area farmers reported other crops normal or above, except for oats, which suffered from the wet Spring and arid Summer.

Gerhart said, "We had a second cutting of hay this year, that is, timothy and clover. On these crops we usually get only a single cutting. I averaged from 25 to 30 bushels per acre on wheat. Our oaks crop was bum. It was a failure."

"I had a fair year on nearly everything else. Fall plowing will begin after we finish filling silos. That should be in a few days. We have from 15 to 20 acres of wheat to plant. The soil is in good shape for plowing now."

Hetrick explained, "I had better than an average hay crop. It's pretty dry for Fall plowing in my fields."

"WE CUT two crops of alfalfa and had a good crop of wheat," Evans declared.

Yocum was the lone agrarian who had success with oats. "We had a pretty good oats crop," he said. "We had it out on time."

"Our hay was good and the nice thing about the hay this year was we had the good dry weather to get it cut and dried. All in all, I'd say it's been a normal season."

Work on Yocum's 20 acres of corn will begin in several weeks.

Most farmers have forsaken the old corn harvesting plan of cutting, shocking and husking for the modern picking system. Corn fodder, once an important ingredient of farm feeds, has lost its value with modern farmers.

The potato crop probably was the hardest hit by the drought. This year's yield is estimated at 210 bushels per acre. Last year's yield was 235 bushels per acre.

Truman Disputed On Issue of Bathtubs

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16 (AP) — President Truman made a bathtub boast today, ad libbing to the American Hotel association that the White House now has "more bathtubs than they have in the Ben Franklin hotel." Philadelphia's largest hostelry.

His hyperbole was relayed to Mrs. Reba Z. Oster, secretary of the resident manager of the hotel.

She laughed and said: "I'll have to take issue with Mr. Truman. We have 1200 rooms and every room has a bathtub, plus a shower. And furthermore, we have bathtubs even in some of our dressing rooms, including the place where I hang my hat and coat."

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Sept. 16 (AP) — Queen Juliana starred on television today. For the first time, TV cameras recorded her ceremonies opening of the Dutch parliament.

Small Business Charge Is Met by Lovett

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP) — Secretary of Defense Lovett today met a charge that he lacked enthusiasm for giving defense orders to small firms by saying he had "great enthusiasm for procuring the right material at the right price at the right time."

He made the statement at a Pentagon news conference when asked for comment on statements by Telford Taylor, the retiring head of the Small Defense Plants Administration (SDPA). Taylor had criticized Lovett and the Pentagon earlier today for an alleged failure to give a "fair share" of military work to small manufacturers.

Failure to Vote Aids Soviet, Lions Hear

Those who fail to vote help the spread of Communism Lt. Col. Maurice Powers, chief of the chaplain branch of the Valley Forge General Hospital, told 65 members of the Lions club in the Eagles Home association last night.

The colonel said only 48 percent of the registered American voters turned out for the 1948 presidential election while 98 percent of Germany's voters cast ballots in an election after the end of World War II.

The German election was to decide the method by which the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia would govern Germany.

Heber "Hebe" Meyers, Pottstown High school's head football coach, will speak to the Lions next Tuesday and show motion pictures of the team in action the past year.

Do you know the cost of a HOSPITAL ROOM

Do you know the cost of a HOSPITAL ROOM these days?

Blue Cross provides you with a semi-private room when you enter the hospital. Room rates are probably much higher than you think!

There are some semiprivate hospital rooms in this area which cost $16 a day. The average cost is $10.25 a day. It adds up fast. If you are a patient for two weeks at $10.25 a day, your bill for room and meals alone amounts to $143.50 — enough in itself to put a real dent in almost anyone's savings. Yet, since room charges are only about 60 percent of the average bill, there will be many other items for you to pay, too.

But you have no worries when you are a Blue Cross member. Blue Cross provides you with a semiprivate room for from 21 to 30 days.

Blue Cross also provides nursing service, drugs and medications, surgical dressings and practically everything else — without regard to cost.

Blue Cross, you see, gives you the actual hospital services you need. It pays off in hospital care — instead of fixed, cash allowances which might not come close to the full amount of your bill.

That's one of the special advantages of Blue Cross protection. You get the care you need to make you well, whatever the bill. Except in maternity cases, Blue Cross pays in full the hospital bills of four out of five subscribers who choose semiprivate rooms.

More than 1,850,000 people in this area belong to nonprofit, community-sponsored Blue Cross. Hundreds of thousands also belong to Blue Shield, the companion plan that pays all or a major portion of your medical-surgical bills. These are the only hospitalization and medical-surgical plans backed by hospitals and doctors themselves.

2 Days Erection Time — Almost Completed

Last Monday, when it was unloaded at its foundation at Merritt Lumber Yards, Inc., this picture would have looked to the casual observer like just another pile of lumber and millwork. Today it is the almost-completed basic construction of a modern home. It's a revolutionary modular home, being erected at Merritt's as a feature of National Home Week, now in progress. Merritt's is sponsoring the demonstration to further speedier, more efficient, more economical home construction in this area. A public inspection and "open house" is planned for tomorrow night, when the basic construction of the modular home will have been completed. Everybody is invited out to learn about the advantages of this easier way to home ownership.

Bank Robber Search Shifts to Central State

POTTSVILLE, Sept. 16 (AP)—The search for three escaped bank robbers who have led authorities a wide-spread chase since the past Wednesday, tonight shifted to a wild mountain area in east-central Pennsylvania.

State police would say little about the latest development in the search for the three much sought after convicts except to confirm that road blocks had been established late this afternoon in an area bounded roughly by the towns of New Tripoli in Lehigh county, Dreherstown and New Ringgold in Schuylkill county and Krumsville, also in Lehigh county.

400-Year History Of Bible Illustrated In Library Display

The history of the Bible with facsimile pages to illustrate its evolution are on display at the Pottstown Public Library this week.

The exhibition has examples of the New Testament of William Tyndale, first published in 1525, and will have displays of all Bibles written up to the King James version the accepted work in the English speaking countries for more than three centuries.

Included in the display are Coverdale's Bible, Matthew's Bible, The Great Bible, The Geneva Bible, The Bishop's Bible and the Rheims-Douai Bible.

The display is being sponsored by the Pottstown Ministerial association in cooperation with the Public Library.

Civil Air patrol and private planes from the Schuylkill airport at Pinedale, Pa. flew over the blocked-off area late this afternoon but there were no official reports of what they saw.

THREE FUGITIVE bank robbers who scaled the wall at Lewisburg (Pa.) Federal penitentiary the past Wednesday, still managed today to evade one of the greatest manhunts in Pennsylvania history.

A force of 350 police and Federal agents guarded all highways in the Scranton area, while all citizens were alerted to keep watch for the prisoners, described as "desperate and vicious."

State police and FBI agents inspected traffic in and out of Scranton as roadblocks were set up at dozens of places. The three men were reported yesterday in this coal mining area.

The FBI bolstered its normal Scranton complement of four agents with 21 additional G-men from Philadelphia and other cities. Hundreds of local and State police combed the area. The FBI installed a special short wave radio station in the Federal building here for contacts with its agents and police throughout the Lackawanna Valley.

The three escaped convicts are Joseph Nolan, 26, and his brother, Ballard, 22, both of Harlan county, Ky., and Elmer Schuer, 21, of Chicago. They were serving long terms at Lewisburg.

The manhunt was shifted from the Bethlehem-Allentown area to Scranton yesterday when the convicts were placed in two restaurants, three miles apart. In both places the men reportedly ordered food and then left before eating it.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

Color is a feature of this home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rosen, 905 North Franklin street, built for them three years ago by A. Pierce Hagenbuch, Pottstown contractor. The stone wing at the right of the red brick house has shadings of rose, bronze and reddish gray in it. The dinette in that wing is decorated in glossy, flowered material. The kitchen is canary yellow, gray and green. The large bathroom downstairs, which has a glass door shower, is peach and gray. Also downstairs are the living room, which is 15 by 20 feet, with a brick fireplace, two bedrooms and a large hall leading directly to the yard. The upstairs is finished and can be used for two bedrooms and bath. There also are a storeroom and walk-in closets there. The basement has a powder room and laundry room. The Rosens wanted a garage separate from the house, so they had it built behind the house. The patio at left is of flagstone. Rosen is owner of United Food market, High and York streets. On the picture are Mrs. Rosen and their daughter, Mrs. Charles Rizzo, who soon will join her husband, a First Sergeant in the U. S. Air Force, in Japan, where he is stationed now.

Plea of 'No Defense' Entered by Man, 32, On Lewdness Counts

A 32-year-old man pleaded "no defense" yesterday to charges of open lewdness and public indecency arising from an encounter with two Penn Village women the past June 2.

Mark Wise, Bowmanville, was ordered by Montgomery County President Judge Harold G. Knight to return for sentencing Friday.

Pottstown Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway, only witness called in the brief proceedings, said the two women were called over to Wise's car by him. He said he wanted information.

When the women walked over to the car, he said, they were exposed himself.

THE WOMEN got his license number, Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward, issued a warrant, and on instructions from Desk Sgt. Russell B. Hummel, Wise came to borough hall the following day.

Wise, who did not testify, told Hummel at the time that he remembered talking with the women but did not recall the exposure.

Two auto accidents, one causing extensive damage to both cars, gave Pottstown Patrolman Paul V. Smith plenty to do in one block of North Charlotte street yesterday morning.

In the more serious accident, at 11:44 o'clock, a coupe driven by Albert Volz, Halfway House, Pottstown RD 3, hit the parked sedan of Elmer G. Kolb, 306 North Charlotte street, pastor of Mennonite Gospel mission.

Volz told Smith he'd been passing a truck while driving south on Charlotte street. He had to swing out to do so, and hit the minister's car on the east side of the street.

The coupe's entire left front was smashed, as was the left door, panel and rear fender. The entire front of Kolb's car was smashed.

THIS HAPPENED 79 minutes after a sedan driven by Evelyn V. Buchanan, Pottstown RD 3, and a convertible driven by Anita Wiener, Wilmington, Del., collided in the same block.

The Wilmington woman's south-bound car slowed because of traffic, and was hit in the rear by the Pottstown RD 3 woman's car, which bore the brunt of the damage. Smith investigated this one, too.

Union Supervisors To Let Controls Die

Union township's board of supervisors voted to end rent control in the township at a special meeting last night in the home of Levi Kulp, president, Douglassville RD 1.

Present at the meeting were Kulp, John C. Bradlev, attorney for the township, John Zeir, Alex Reilly, Robert Rahn, John Snell, George Zeir, Charles Care and David Shurey.

Rahn spoke in favor of discontinuing controls. Care made the formal motion seconded by Shurey. Kulp called for the question and the resulting vote was unanimous in favor of ending controls.

No further business was discussed. The next meeting will be Oct. 7.

OBITUARIES

ADAM LUTHER STRUNK, 53, died suddenly yesterday morning at 3 o'clock when he suffered a heart attack while at work for Stanley G. Flagg and company, Stowe.

A laborer, he was unloading waste material in the foundry when he was stricken. He died within a few minutes. Dr. S. Russell Ash, who was called, pronounced him dead.

Mr. Strunk was born in Colebrookdale, son of the late James and Amanda (Leshner) Strunk. During most of his life, he had lived with members of his family in and near Pottstown. He had lived for the past two years at the hotel.

He had been employed by Flagg's for the past six years. A member of the Lutheran congregation of Hill church, he also was a member of Seventh Ward Social club, West Pottsgrove Rod and Gun club and Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company.

Surviving are two brothers, Emerson L. Temple, Berks county, and James L. Reading, and three sisters, Sarah, wife of Irvin Endy, Temple; Mrs. Eva Hutt, 27 Boone court, Penn Village, and Mrs. Naomi Stetler, 318 Ash street, Stowe.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street. The Rev. William R. Seaman, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, Souderton, will officiate. Interment will be made in Hill Church cemetery.

Kiwanians to Mark National Kids' Day By Selling Peanuts

Kiwanis club members will become peanut vendors next week. They will station themselves on High street the night of Sept. 26 and all day Sept. 27 with large supplies of small bags of peanuts. Proceeds of the peanut sale will be donated to the club's fund for underprivileged children.

The sale, the membership decided at its weekly dinner meeting in the Elks home last night, will be the club's observance of National Kids' day, Sept. 27.

Dr. Isaac Thomas, a master at The Hill, spoke briefly after dinner about his former classmates at Princeton university. Among the classmates were a missionary in leaders, India and Federal Judge Harold Medina, whose fame became nation-wide during the trial two years ago in New York of 11 Communist.

Painful cramps of "Monthly Periods" stopped or amazingly relieved in 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' own tests!

Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation — who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days" — may often be suffering quite unnecessarily! Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested! Test! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's thoroughly modern, in action, it exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus — without the use of pain-deadening drugs! The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you? Take Lydia Pinkham's through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days"! See if you don't feel better before and during your period! Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets, with added iron! If you're troubled with "hot flashes" and other functional distress of "change of life" — you'll find Lydia Pinkham's wonderful for that, too!

Pack Frames and Hike Plans Are Limerick Scout Projects

Limerick Boy Scouts, like the old pioneers, are always itching to hit the trail. The troop spent last night working on their pack frames. Their theme for this month is "getting ready for hiking." The new-type frames will enable them to carry more food and equipment for longer hikes. "The pack frame uses the same idea as the pack saddle on a horse," Scoutmaster Bob Glenn explained. "The Scouts take two upright pieces of oak and fasten cross pieces to them so that the frame resembles a short ladder. Webbed straps are attached to slip over the shoulders." Glenn said you can pack anything you can carry on the frame. A diamond hitch in the rope holds blankets and other gear securely to the frame. "THE FRAME also keeps the pack clear of the Scout's back, so air can circulate. An ordinary pack hangs tight against the back, but the pack frame rests on the hips," Glenn further explained. The troop has been taking hikes along different sections of the Horseshoe trail, which runs from Valley Forge to Mananda Gap, near Mt. Gretna and Harrisburg. Their next jaunt will be on the same trail, starting at some point above Reading. Members of the troop committee will transport the hikers to the starting point and pick them up at the end of the weekend trek. "You don't realize how many people are interested in Scouting unless you are in it yourself," Scoutmaster Glenn said. "We meet request we make of the community."

Libya's Application To UN Vetoed by USSR

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 16 —Russia vetoed Libya's application for membership in the United Nations today. The negative vote of Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik was Russia's 51st veto of a majority decision in the Security Council.

The 10 other Security Council members voted for admitting the new kingdom in North Africa, which was formed as a result of UN decisions disposing of Mussolini's old overseas Italian empire. Malik told the council Libya could be admitted to the UN if the council would accept 13 other countries, including five Soviet satellites.

One inch of joy surmounts of grief a span, because to laugh is proper to the man.—Francois Rabelais.

Why Students Die

Dr. LIVINGSTON HUSTON, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, told a fraternity gathering that auto accidents are the chief cause of death among college students. Most of those accidents result from careless and reckless driving.

Dr. Huston suggested that fraternities sponsor safe driving programs. They might well do so, for their members are in the age group which accounts for a disproportionately large number of mishaps.

Insurance companies long have recognized that young people often are rash drivers and charge extra premiums for their liability coverage. Persons under 25 constitute 15 percent of all drivers. Yet in 1951 they were responsible for more than 25 percent of the fatal automobile accidents and 21 percent of the non-fatal accidents.

Young men and women seem to master the technicalities of driving more readily than older persons. However, there is more daring and recklessness among them. Those things are usually out of order in a car.

With another college year starting and with fraternities seeking to add more serious meaning to their associations, Dr. Huston's suggestion about safe driving campaigns is an excellent one.

Call Ours the Taxpayers' Deal

A sweeping land and resources conservation movement, initiated and carried on mainly by private citizens, is the subject of a penetrating article in The Saturday Evening Post, entitled "How to Make Bureaucrats Earn Their Pay." It quotes one of the leaders of the movement, Clayton M. Hoff, who says: We've had the New Deal and the Fair Deal. Call ours the Taxpayers' Deal.

The gist of the story is that for years the United States has witnessed a costly parade of glamorous monuments to centralized bureaucracy—billions of dollars worth of big river power dams, valley authorities, administrators and plans—while disastrous upland floods and erosion continued unabated. Tired of the ballyhoo, public spirited taxpayers have formed their own valley associations and put a few of the job-holders already on the public payroll, to work on conservation projects which get results.

The Post piece deals extensively with the development of the Brandywine Valley Association. A group of farmers and business men founded the Association in 1945 and set to work to educate the people of the valley on land and forest conservation and stream purification. In 1947 government offices in the area were so swamped with requests for full-scale farm plans—contour farming, irrigation ponds, etc.—that the United States Department of Agriculture, by taxpayers' petition, declared the county a soil conservation district and sent additional technical men in to help. Figures attest to the success of the program. Farm income in the county increased almost $8,500,000 in five years. In the words of Mr. Hoff, head of the Association, "Why subsidize farmers when self-effort plus the tax-paid help available will produce results like that?"

On the Payroll for Keeps

TAXPAYER'S Dollar, a national publication recently said, "In spite of criticisms of the Office of Price Stabilization, it is possible to sympathize with some of the problems they face in their operations."

This observation was occasioned by complaints of former OPS director Ellis Arnall before a congressional committee. Mr. Arnall said, "This is a frustrating thing I found out. If I want to fire a fellow I cannot fire him. And when I want to hire a fellow I cannot hire him. . . . It's hard to employ a good man. And once you get a man on it, it is hard to get him off the payroll."

Mr. Arnall was describing the employment problem in an agency which has been given the stupendous job of regulating prices all the way from the biggest factory down to the smallest retail store. If the OPS staff consisted entirely of geniuses, it would still be impossible to do such a job efficiently, quickly, and smoothly. As matters stand, all-important economic questions which vitally affect the operation of our productive and distributive machines are largely decided by people who get on the payroll through political pull or as an inflexible seniority system, who are exceedingly difficult to discharge no matter how unfitted they may be for the work, and who, in many instances, are totally unfamiliar with the complexities of the problems they deal with.

Senator Byrd has estimated that ten percent of the government's civilian employees are inefficient. A good way to start would be to get rid of such disruptive and destructive bureaus as OPS.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where in Vienna the telephone company tells "the joke of the day" to dialers of a certain number. The biggest joke is that people spend money for the service!

It wouldn't be so bad if the dialer got a back h's money if he already had heard the gags!

And say: Imagine trying to make a rush call and finding yourself in the middle of a yarn about the traveling salesman and the farmer's daughter! Hopin' you all the same,

Stop Road Killers

To the Editor: According to Monday's Mercury, a soldier driving along airport road failed to negotiate a bend and crashed all the way through a garage to hit another vehicle.

What I want to know is, how fast must you be going to be unable to negotiate a turn, shoot 40 feet up the drive and crash through the garage door and drive another car through the rear wall of the garage?

And it is nothing to smile about when you stop to think that the life of every other person on the road is at stake when these maniacs get behind the wheel of a car.

Another story tells about a 19-year old driver who was just buried after being killed in a head-on collision. And on the last news page is a story about two men who had to be pulled from the wreckage of a car after it overturned on Route 100, after knocking down a utility pole.

WASHINGTON

Acheson Not In Accord With U. S. Court Oil Stand

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—The most ironic politico-legal act at Washington today consists of the Truman Administration's indictment of seven great oil companies simultaneously with Secretary Acheson's offer of a $10,000,000 "bribe" to obtain more favorable treatment of these same firms from Iranian Premier Mossadegh and other rulers in the turbulent Middle East.

Although our top diplomat cannot afford to speak his mind publicly, it is known that he is extremely unsympathetic to Attorney General McGranery's interference in this dangerous and delicate international minefield. For it was the State Department which first forced these firms into Middle East operations as a measure of national defense.

State has been kept fully informed of the very activities which Justice now declares to be illegal. At Acheson's behest, the American firms named in the indictment have made sacrifices in order to co-operate with Anglo-American diplomatic efforts to keep the Russians out of this area by negotiating a settlement with Mossadegh. They have refused to buy and market Iranian oil.

PROPAGANDA: Thus, while the State Department allies itself with 10 Downing street in trying to make a satisfactory deal, including the tentative promise of a $10,000,000 loan, a Cabinet member only a few blocks down Pennsylvania Avenue seeks to discredit the companies involved in the international feud.

Even if McGranery's charges of cartel arrangements on production and price-fixing can be proved in the courts, diplomatic considerations dictate postponement of legal action until the current threat to our political, military and economic stake in the strategic Middle East has disappeared.

Meanwhile, the Truman-McGranery trust provides both Mossadegh and Moscow with anti-western propaganda in China, India, Egypt, Korea. It has been interpreted as evidence of their contention that "imperialistic capitalists" in New York and London always exploit the small and backward nations.

The peculiar background of the Administration's belated prosecution of the domestic petroleum firms suggests that it may have been motivated by presidential campaign politics.

It is counted on to show the Administration's solicitude for independent units in the oil industry, and for small business generally. It will also furnish material for another "whistle stop" attack on what Truman calls "reactionary Wall Street" interests.

SUPPRESSED: The investigation of alleged cartel activities was made by staff experts of the Federal Trade Commission more than a year ago. But their report was suppressed on the ground that publication would "jeopardize foreign relations."

Then, as now, State objected to a broadcast of the revelations. As a matter of fact, only a relatively small amount of the verbiage was deleted for security reasons when it was finally released. The deletions concerned British operations in Iran that might handicap current negotiation with Mossadegh.

Incidentally, the report's conclusions and implications have never received the approval of the Federal Trade Commission itself. As finally given out by the White House a few weeks ago, it simply represented the findings of the staff, which has frequently been accused by commission members and on Capitol Hill of anti-business prejudice.

Several months ago, Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr. of Missouri began to make demands for publication of the survey. Although he presented personal pleas at the White House, he was rebuffed sharply. Indeed, he told friends that he had been given a severe lecture.

Hennings' interest is attributed to the fact that petroleum and allied co-operatives are politically strong in Missouri and surrounding states, especially among the farmers.

GRAMPAW NED OAKLEY

The rainstorm isn't too bad. But it is bad enough to show readers that they are not safe on the streets as long as these potential killers are on the loose.

I'd like to suggest that, after the three escapes from Lewisburg are recaptured, something be done about initiating a manhunt to sweep up these killers before they take any more innocent lives.

IN FEAR OF MY LIFE

Bad Intersection

To the Editor: High and Hanover streets is one of the worst intersections I have ever had the misfortune to walk across.

You don't have to try to cross at the intersection diagonally or against the red light to be in danger—cars whiz around you in all directions whether you try to cross with the signal or not.

The cars going north on Hanover street making a left turn onto High street are particularly dangerous. They cross over the intersection

lanes and don't give the pedestrian a chance to cross.

Usually two policemen are on duty there during the rush hours. If the right kind of traffic signals were used at this dangerous intersection, one policeman would be more than enough to watch traffic.

Pedestrian lights should be put up at the intersection. All vehicle traffic should stop when the pedestrian lights are on and men and women would be allowed to cross any corner out of danger of cars speeding around a corner to make a light.

Critics might say that this would slow traffic down, but it wouldn't. When the green light is on for either High street or Hanover street, the cars would be able to move out more quickly since pedestrians would not slow them down.

The pedestrian lights would have to stay lit long enough to permit a person to cross both High and Hanover streets in "L" shape fashion.

WORRIED

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

(Dorothy Kilgallen is on vacation. Her guest columnist today is John Perona, owner of the famous Manhattan glamour spot, El Morocco.)

John Perona Writes:

THIS FALL MARKS the twentieth anniversary of the opening of El Morocco at 154 East 54th street, and it delights me to go back over those years and reminisce about the socialites, stage, screen, radio and television stars athletes and other People Who Count who have been regulars at El Morocco over the years.

Just imagine having before your eyes Ina Claire and the late Le Marquis de Pohnag d a n c i n g the rumba; beautiful girls and respectable matrons, impeccably young men and sedate gentlemen; the sommelier (smiling in spite of it) taking off and putting on his chain, which every girl wants to wear; champagne and scotch, caviar and cordials; Chancey Gray and his orchestra; tables prouetting in the air on crowded nights; photographer's blubs flashing; stars flirting from above; the wee hours of the morning, coming upon the dancers suddenly.

It would be impossible to mention all the names of the famous people who have been here since the opening in 1932. I remember one early morning when the late Eddy Duchin was at the piano. Enric Madriguera played the violin, Liebert Lombardo the cornet, Ramon Ramos, the guitar, and I helped out with the palillos.

IN THE FALL of 1939, a dinner party given by Mrs. Marcus Daly was an emerald and diamond affair with the hostess completely out-glittering her titled guests as far as jewels were concerned. Lele Daly, a Viennese, was a clown in the green and white gems and fabulous Princess Faird, whom you will probably remember as a former wife of Kresge, the chain-store magnate, wore more than a million dollars worth of "ice." Among the gems nestling on the person of Princess Faird was a bracelet studded with emeralds on which figures from the Koran was cut.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

HAL G., 19, is a brilliant college Junior.

"But, Dr. Crane, something is wrong with Hal," his mother said.

"The dean of men has just called us to say that Hal's grades are dropping this term. Besides, Hal now wants to sleep most of the time."

"They checked his physical condition and found nothing wrong. So the Dean says we ought to consult a psychiatrist quickly."

"Do you think Hal is really in a dangerous condition?"

Yes, Hal is in a very dangerous condition. This is the typical manner in which schizophrenia (insanity) begins.

The patient somehow finds that the external world is cruel, forbidding, humiliating or generally painful.

In such circumstances, many people become chronic drunkards to attain temporary oblivion. Others take dope.

SOME JUST duck out and run away. When they can't stand the gaff in one place, they quit their job and move on to another as tramps or rolling stones.

Others actually resort to suicide to get away. But the insane patient plays 'possum.' He just draws within his shell and affects indifference to the world.

His condition is quite like that of auto-hypnosis in which he cuts himself off from outside stimulation. He may even disregard food and actually starve.

But young people don't run away from pleasure and happiness and joy and love and compliments! Parents, please take note!

Vaccinate your children against insanity long in advance of the time they leave for college.

BE LAVISH with compliments. Show your children affection. But don't molly-coddle them so they can't even spend one night away from mamma.

Thousands of college Freshmen drop out the very first few months of their autumn term because of nostalgia (homesickness). That's often an indictment of their parents.

Let your child spend the night with a pal. Gradually get him educated to visiting his cousins for the weekend. Then teach him to stay with his grandparents for a week or so in Summer.

Wear him away from your apron strings by gradual degrees. Be sure he has other friends and loved ones around him as emotional "crutches" to maintain his ego.

Be reasonably affectionate with your children. Actually pat them on the head or back as you give them a word of praise.

Many parents pat the dog far more often than they do their own youngsters! Yet the latter are very hungry for a hug or affectionate pat!

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16 — Those who gushed into print with the news of Betty Grable's replacing Shelley Winters in "Blaze of Glory" and how teddibly, teddibly happy

Betty was to be sinking her teeth into a dramatic role, etc., must feel kinda silly, now that the gal's on suspension for turning down that epic. Had a hunch the Grable wouldn't exactly be grabbing at "Glory," starting so soon after her just-finished "The Farmer Takes a Wife."

Betty doesn't like to work that hard. Besides, she's more than a bit miffed that "Gents Prefer Blondes" (long "preferred" by Betty) will be made without her. Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell co-star in "Gents" this Fall. . . . Hate reporting this but the gossip is too loud to ignore. Things are far from peachy-keen with Anne Baxter (now in the east) and John Hodiak. They've always seemed so maaaaad for each other.

ALDO RAY is happy he'll be with Jane Wyman in "Love Song." But he'd be even gayer if his studio boss would let him go to public places with his girl-friend. Ray's been forbidden any "night-life" till he's out of the divorce mill. . . . If Terry Moore winds up her work in "Man on a Tightrope" now shooting in Germany in time, she can have the ingenue lead with Clifton Webb and Barbara Stanwyck in "Titanic." . . . Just as well a big domestic battle may be settled out of court. . . . and quite quietly. The less bein' said about it, the better! . . . Mickey Rooney's full TV series becomes a reality in mid-October, when his filmed half-hour comedy shows go before cameras at N.B.C. No title yet.

HYATT DEHN had hundreds of people seated amid a profusion of pink balloons, pink table-cloths, pink and white flowers, vigil-lights and candlelight for his black-tie party honoring Rhonda Fleming and Dr. Lew Morrell last night. In the throng of socialites and film-ties were Egypt's Queen Nazli, the John Lunds, Natalie Thompson with George Gregson, the Huntington Harfords, the Bill Lundings, the Harry Goetzes, the Corny Jacksons, Diana Lynn and John Lindsay, Jeanne Crain and Paul Brookman, the Paul Garretts, Peter Lawford, whose Pa is very ill. . . . At another soiree we watched a famed star's eyes turn pink then red, then purple—and all he'd had was a few martinis and a bucket of champagne! However, he's a gentlemanly drunk. Has perfect under-the-table-manners! On screen, Wright had a cocktail-buffet for Frieda Henneck, of the FCC.

THIEVES THWARTED — Thieves visited Linfield but they failed to secure cash or any valuables. They stole two iron bars and a heavy hammer at the blacksmith shop of Carl Keiser. Then they battered their way into the stores of Abram Fry and J. M. Kendall.

TRESTLE AFIRE—The Colebrookdale branch trestle over Ironstone creek between Manatam and Ironstone was discovered on fire just after the limited train of Conductor Jere Conrad passed over it on the way to Barto. Conductor Conrad, Engineer Mahlon Barlow, brakeman Dan Embody and passengers extinguished the blaze with water carried from the creek.

IDLE CANAL—The Schuylkill canal filled with water is idle only one coal-loaded boat having passed down all Summer according to South Pottstown residents.

MORE HORSES—Dr. L. A. Pratt has returned from the annual national convention of the American Veterinary Association held in Philadelphia. It was stated there are now more horses in the United States than in 1910. In the past year 600 veterinarians died and only 170 entered the profession.

FOUND DEAD—The body of George "Snap" Fryer, 55, of Pottstown, was found in the barnyard on the farm of Daniel Stoltzfus, near Morgantown. He may have fallen from a haymow or suffered a heart attack.

CHURCHES SEPARATE—The St. James Lutheran church congregation this borough voted to form an independent congregation if St. Peter's church, Stowe, assents. Rev. Ernest H. J. Hoh is pastor of the two churches now.

NEW TEACHER—Bernice K. Grubb, daughter of J. Lloyd Grubb, 1218 Queen street, has been elected a teacher in modern languages at Dickinson college, Carlisle. She is a graduate of Pottstown High school, Ursinus college and the University of Rochester. She has written a thesis on French modern dramatic art.

CATHOLIC CLUB—The Catholic Women's club held a social and the following officers were installed: Mrs. Pauline Kneel, president; Mae Koury, vice president; Helen Dimco, secretary and Margaret Koury, treasurer.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Gets Quarry, No Medal . . .

Back After 10,000 Miles . . .

★ AND THE ANTELOPE ROAM—Sidney Pollock, 1314 High street, a partner in Mayer Pollock scrap iron firm, is home with an ironic trophy of his participation in one of the biggest sporting events of the Far West—the annual one-shot antelope contest in Wyoming. He was a member of the four-man Pennsylvania team, which won by a wide margin over teams from Colorado, Illinois and the host state. In addition to Wyoming's governor and U. S. Senators, celebrities there included Lauritz Melchior, operatic and movie singer, who was shooting with Colono. . . .

CONTESTANTS go out on the open range in small trucks and with guides to hunt the antelopes, which can travel up to 60 miles an hour. Unfortunately, just before Pollock was getting set for his one and only contest shot, the antelope sped between Pollock's vehicle and the one trailing it. Rather than risk bagging a hunter, Pollock ran around his truck, waited until the antelope was out of line with the other truck, then fired more or less from the hip at a fast-moving antelope some 200 yards away. He missed. . . .

★ LATER HE took a non-contest shot at an antelope some 400 yards away. He bagged this one. The other three Pennsylvanians each scored with their lone contest shots. Illinois and Colorado could score no more than one hit. Wyoming was shut out. As much a feature of the event as the actual hunting were the festivities staged by Shoshone Indians. The Pennsylvanians were painted with victory paint. The losers were daubed with defeat paint. And then while the victors sat back and watched, the losers had to dance with Indian squaws who carried papooses on their backs. Pollock's big regret was, of course, missing that one tough shot. "If I'd hit one," he said, "we'd have made a score that they never would have equalled."

MOVER — William G. Bechtel, airman third class son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Bechtel, 542 High street, has been moved to the Golden coast after completing his training at the Sampson, N. Y., air training center. He now is stationed at the Norton Air Force Base, San Bernardino, Calif. Bechtel enlisted early in May. He worked as an inspector at Doehler-Jarvis before going into the air corps.

★ LONG, LONG TRAIL—The campaign swings that the Presidential candidates are making these days are piker's stuff compared with the auto trip recently completed by Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McMahon, Green Lane. In 23 days, they covered 9188 miles, passing through 29 states, plus Alberta, Canada; British Columbia and Mexico. In Billings, Mont., they encountered an impressive expression of Western hospitality. As a woman was waiting for a bus, she happened to remark, "We are strangers here." The McMahans heard it. So did a letter carrier. He stepped to the McMahans side and commented, "There are no strangers here. We're all friends in this country."

THE COUPLE reported they "had delightful weather with exception of first day." In Albuquerque, N. M., they visited Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roeder, former Upper Perkiomen Valley residents. Roeder's father is Harold L. Roeder, 142 Jefferson street, East Greenville. Their general route through the Midwest by way of Kentucky, then to British Columbia through the Northwest, down the Pacific Coast to California, then home via the Southwest and South.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

A SPECIAL type of skin ailment can come from using too much medicine, even from too much repetition of a useful remedy. Thus, a person may treat a rash, only to bring on a worse one.

At some time in our lives, all of us suffer from an annoying skin rash of one type or another. Many of us consult our physician, and in most cases the rash is cured almost immediately.

Others—and there are a great number of them—have a tendency to try out some product recommended by a friend or an advertisement.

After applying one of these skin remedies to the rash, they may develop a severe itchiness and redness over the area. This usually increases in a few hours until it causes a great deal of suffering and discomfort. The offending substance can be an ointment, lotion, or paste.

Most of these reactions are due to a form of local allergy or sensitivity to some ingredient in the medicine.

The most common substances that people are allergic to are local anesthetics, "sulfa" drugs, mercury, phenol, tar, menthol, camphor, iodine, and salicylic acid.

Most cases of athlete's foot are complicated by too much unsupervised treatment. Usually, the patient becomes over-sensitive to the drugs, and when he meets them again in another form or another product, they may cause severe distress.

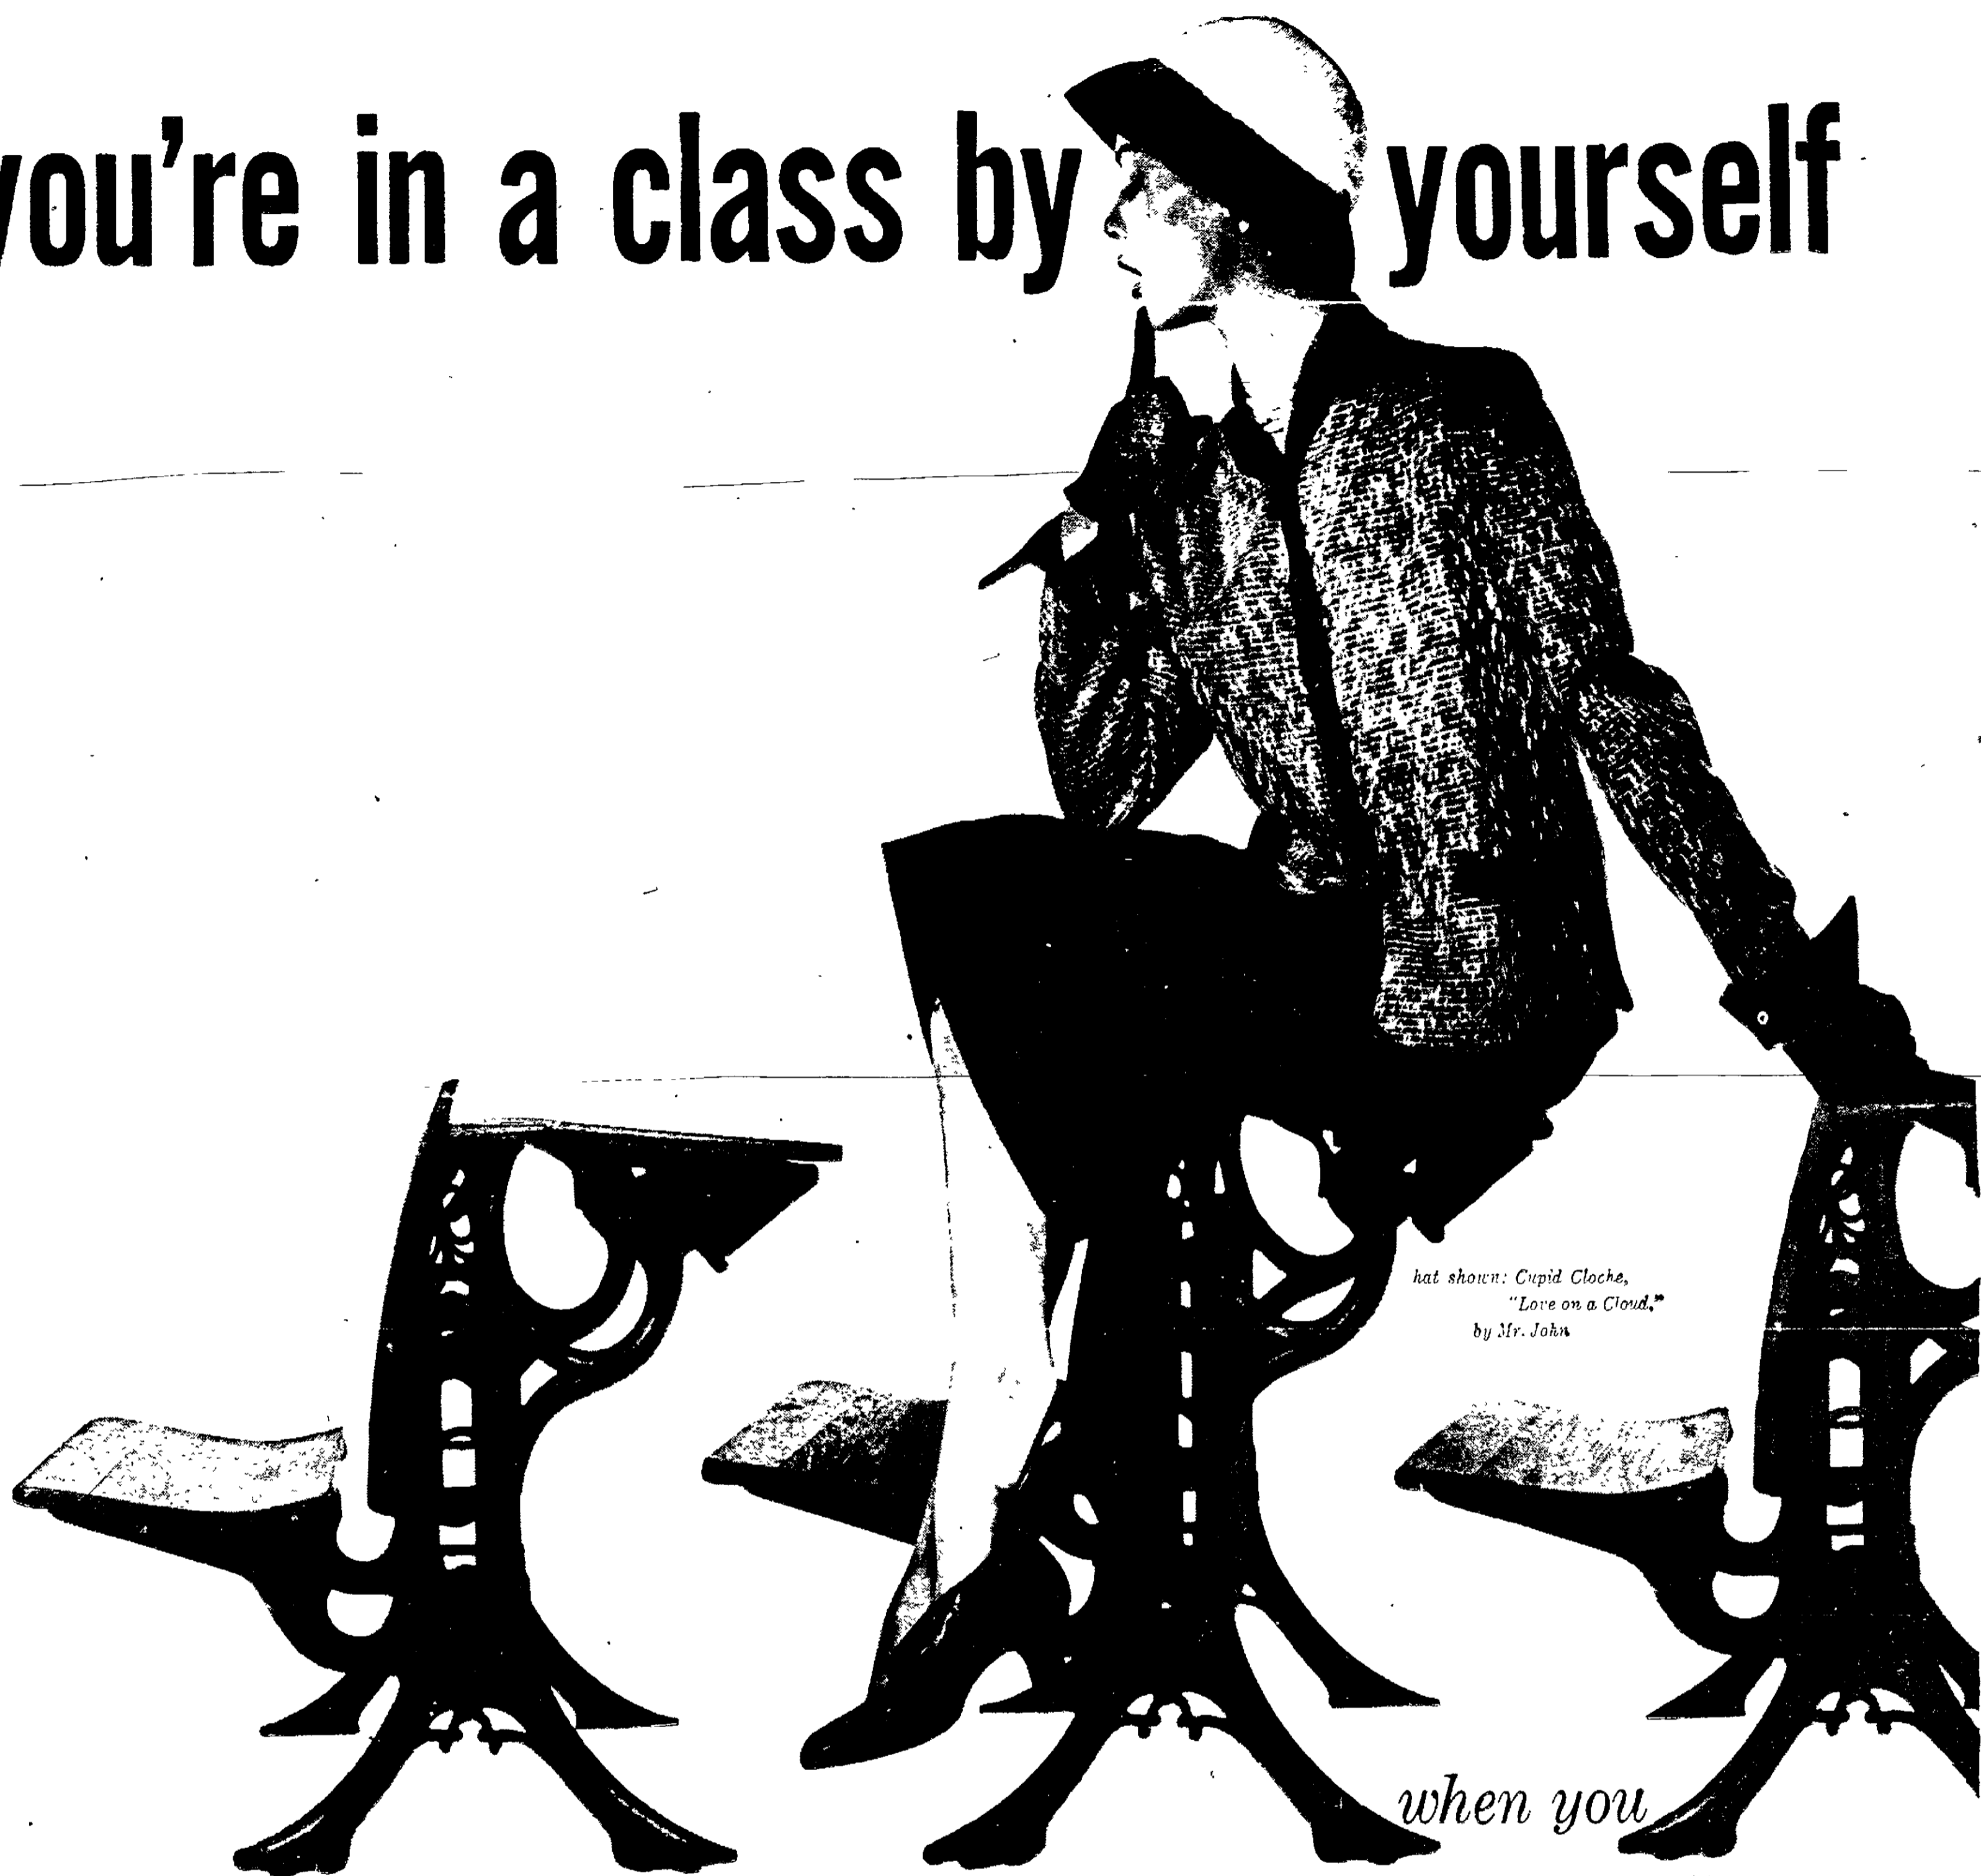

People who have been suffering from a skin condition over a long period of time are less likely to develop a reaction to drugs than those with an acute or recent skin complaint.

Strange or untested preparations should not be applied to skin diseases unless the physician has been consulted.

The family medicine cabinet should contain mild remedies, such as borac solution, calamine lotion or Ilesar's paste. These are fairly effective in soothing many acute skin conditions.

Even these household remedies, however, can irritate the skin and cause a severe reaction in some cases.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By LARRY DAVIS

THE job which Sydney C. Albright has had for the past 12 years with the exception of 30 months in World War II is one that is strictly from hunger.

He's a driver-salesman for the Schulz Baking company. Six days of the week, he's up long before the crack of dawn, has loaded his truck by 5 a.m. and is on his house-to-house rounds when many a Pottstovian is just turning over for his last 40 winks.

Monday through Friday he winds up his day by 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Saturday the grind isn't over until 6:30 or even 7:30 p.m.

"Sid" has been a route man since his school days when he delivered the old Pottstown News. He took to house-to-house work early and has been at it ever since.

He was born in Pottstown May 28, 1914, the son of Irvin S. and the late Jennie (Repper) Albright and in his early youth lived in the 400-block of Lincoln avenue. He was educated in the public schools and was graduated from Pottstown High school in 1931.

The middle initial in his name stands for Carlisle, but he has never been able to figure out where or from whom he could have inherited it.

Following graduation, Sid went to work for Charles J. Custer at the Pottstown News agency, spending his first three years there as an outside home delivery collector. Later, he went into the circulation end of the newspaper and magazine business with the agency, remaining with it when the enterprise was purchased by Michael Lobron.

On June 7, 1938, nearly two years before he joined the Schulz company, he was married in the First Methodist church to the former Miss Ann Fpsnocht. There is one child, a blond son, Robert, age 3.

When World War II came along, Sid was in line for service. Aug. 2, 1943, after delivering baked goods to part of the East End, Hill Crest and Kenilworth for three years, he joined the Army. He trained first at Fort Eustis, Va., with an anti-aircraft artillery outfit. But, as he explains it, "after the U.S. went on the offensive, AA artillery sort of petered out." So he was assigned as a rifleman with the 98th Infantry division.

But he did more truck driving than rifle carrying. In April, 1944, his division went to Hawaii for more advanced training for an anticipated assault on fortress Japan. The A-bomb, however, forestalled such an attack, and the 98th landed peacefully in September 1945 on beaches that would have felt the initial invasion shock.

For the remaining four months of his Army service, he was stationed near Osaka and helped dismantle Japanese ammunition concentrations.

Sid is perfectly happy as a driver-salesman despite the long days and long weeks, because being on a commission basis he is practically in business for himself. A route salesman gets to know his customers well and he can anticipate his probable sales. Sid puts in his daily orders two days in advance.

Sid has had minor adventures on his route. Like the many times he has replaced blown out fuses, or the invalid woman whose shoes he tied daily, or the customers who write lengthy, apologetic letters in stead of a simple note to say they don't want bread today.

Not infrequently, a customer will write his order, tack it neatly in side the screen door, lock the door and go away for the day. Sid can't get it. He sometimes chases after a wind-blown note a customer leaves lying loose inside the storm door.

Once in a while he is asked to waken a household about to go on vacation. They've never been up so early before.

Sid and his wife have lived at their home, 1330 South street, since 1939. Although he's been getting up at 4 a.m. for the past 12 years, he's never once made it without the help of the alarm clock.

THE paint and wallpaper business may appear to be of primary interest to men. If it is, then Mrs. Thomas W. Kressly is the exception who can play the game along with the best of them. She talks care of the merits of paint, color dynamics and interior decorating with an enthusiasm that is almost overwhelming.

"Any housewife," she maintains, "can start with the basic things she has in her home. With a little advice and a little patience can make her house over to suit herself."

Wife of the Pottstown paint dealer, Mrs. Kressly works with him side by side, running the business when he is absent on road trips, and visiting homes to make suggestions on decorating.

"I am not," she insists, "an interior decorator. I simply enjoy working in color harmony."

The business she and her husband operate resulted not from any long range planning for it, but rather as a compensation for boredom. Neither had had any practical experience in paint or paint sales prior to their decision to open a shop back in 1948.

Mrs. Kressly, a silver-haired woman with bright brown eyes and a flawless complexion, was born in the Bedford section of Brooklyn in 1909. Of German and Swiss parentage, she was orphaned shortly after her birth and with a sister, was raised by an aunt and uncle who themselves had six children.

"I was the youngest of them all," Mrs. Kressly recounts, "and so got all the hand-me-downs. But my aunt was a very good woman who was always thinking about others. She made us children work for handicapped people she knew; and I think it was very good training."

Long before she entered public school in Brooklyn, Amelia Faust (her maiden name) was delivering fancy, hand decorated baked goods to orphanages and day nurseries. The products were made by her uncle, and from watching him work, she was introduced to the world of creative art.

Later, after high school training, she studied art and interior decorating at Pratt's institute, but "only for my own good."

She worked as a window decorator and as a saleswoman for "China-ware" which she loves enthusiastically.

Her somewhat checkered career then took her into the field of women's foundations, and for several years she sold corsets from door to door. She was busy keeping New York females in trim line when she met another doorbell ringer, a brass salesman.

Tom Kressly—Pennsylvania born and a veteran of World War I—was a branch manager for the Fuller Brush company.

"Since we were both house-to-house men," Kressly says, "it was natural we should get together."

They were married June 8, 1935, an event that took Mrs. Kressly out of circulation for 13 years.

When Kressly was appointed Philadelphia manager for the Fuller company, the couple purchased a farmhouse and 13 acres on Squirrel Hollow road, Douglassville Rd. 1, which they occupied in April, 1942. Mrs. Kressly stayed at home in the remodeled, 10 room dwelling, caring for the steers, pigs and other live stock, while her husband commuted to Philadelphia.

After 26 years with Fuller, Kressly retired in 1948 and the two decided to travel. A trip to Florida and back brought the unhappy conclusion they didn't like travelling. Kressly selected paint as a business, took a three-month course with the Glidden company in Reading, passed the literature on to Mrs. Kressly and the two were ready for a new venture.

While looking for a business site, they conducted the enterprise from the barn at home. In July of 1949, they opened their present store at 408 High street.

Today, the livestock is gone, but the two keep busy about the large home. Together, they built one of the two drives to the home, and Mrs. Kressly does all her own work in the 10 rooms.

Like her husband, Mrs. Kressly has found the business a stimulating one that has brought a rich reward in friendly associations.

Mary Melchiorre Bride Of Mr. Russell J. Bacchi

Autumn was the theme in the recent wedding of Miss Mary Melchiorre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Germaine Melchiorre, 62 West Vine street, Stowe, and Mr. Russell J. Bacchi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bacchi, 325 King street, held in St. Aloysius Catholic church.

In front of an altar banked with white gladioli, chrysanthemums, and palms, the Rev. Francis Suchanek performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Paul Guthrie and Mrs. T. S. Kurtz, Sanatoga, performed vocal and organ solos for guests numbering approximately 800.

Miss Melchiorre came down the aisle, decorated with white ribbon swags held in place with white gladioli and pompoms of yellow, orange, gold, and rust, on the arm of her father. Her V-neck, long-sleeved gown featured long sleeves, a delicately scalloped skirt which fell to reveal a white lace petticoat in front and extended to a court-length train in back. A white lace crown, garlanded by tiny orange blossoms held a long lace train which covered her satin gown. She carried a bouquet of three white orchids and stephanotis to which were attached streamers ending in more white orchids.

Attendants of the bride, Mrs. Thelma Toennet, Bridgeport, Miss Barbara Groover, Miss Elaine Wien, Miss Dolores Frock, and flower girl, Miss Joanne Torro, wore similarly styled gowns in Fall colors of gold, grey, coralberry, and dark green. Styled in nylon net, with halter necklines, and empire waists, the gowns had jackets which were removed later for the reception. Completing the picture, the attendants wore cloche hats of net with rhinestone tipped bustle backs. Except for the flower girl who carried a basket of bronze and gold mums and Fall leaves, the women carried mixed bouquets of leaves and yellow or bronze mums to contrast with their gowns.

Mr. Edward Smith acted as best man. Mr. Eugene Tuffillaro as ring bearer for the bridegroom. Ushers were Mr. Robert Jones, Mr. Alex Koval, and Mr. Donald Shanley.

Both mothers of the couple wore white orchids, the mother of the bride chose blue faille with a beaded V neck and navy blue accessories. The mother of the groom also wore a jacket-dress, of royal blue. Her hat and gloves were of beige, her accessories of black.

A TURKEY dinner was held immediately after the ceremony for

Linderman School's Old Teachers, Pupils Hold Ninth Reunion

Including Mr. William T. Miller who taught the class from 1899-1900, 35 teachers and pupils of Linderman's school, Limerick, which was closed 10 years ago, held their ninth reunion on the lawn of Mr. Joseph Clump opposite the old school grounds.

Acting president Mr. William A. Griffith, Burgess of Pottstown, called the meeting to order. The Rev. S. H. Stahl, Allentown, opened the meeting with an invocation followed by a familiar song. Minutes were read and approved, as was the treasurer's report.

Congratulations were extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Frankenberg on their 57th wedding anniversary, and the following officers were elected: Mr. Griffith, president; Mr. Francis Peterman, vice president; Mrs. Mary E. Sleficka, Limerick, secretary-treasurer.

REMARKS were made by Mrs. Mary Spore, supervisor of nurses, Mrs. Flora Stahl, teacher in 1902, Mr. William T. Miller, and others.

Mr. Miller recounted some of the incidents of his early days in the old one-room Linderman school with its home-made desks and benches without backs, and recited a poem "Sixty Years Ago."

Mr. Griffith then spoke on school consolidation. He said, "It is right and fitting that this be done to go along with the health laws and to keep pace with the rapidly expanding improvements of our time."

Mr. George Peterman reported that in Virginia the pupils must pay $3 for their books and a $1 insurance fee which covers the school day from one hour before classes to one hour after.

After the business meeting had adjourned, Mrs. Stahl and her committee presented a program of amusements which ended with a covered dish social.

It was decided to return to the same place next year on the second Saturday after Labor day.

Double Ring Rites Unite Cora Dengler And Wilbert Sharp

Only immediate family witnessed the ceremony in St. Peter's Lutheran church when united Miss Cora A. Dengler, 312 North Evans street, and Mr. Wilbert S. Sharp.

Officiating at the double ring rites was the Rev. Arthur Hanson. Miss Dengler's ballerina-length gown of white organza and eyelet featured an eyelet bertha, a princess style bodice, and panels of eyelet upon organza which fell over a taffeta skirt. Long sleeves, a shoulder length veil, and an orchid tipped Bible completed her outfit.

Mrs. Dorothy Houck, matron of honor wore a gown which was similar to that of the bride except that Mrs. Houck's underskirt of taffeta was nude green. Her open-crowned halo bonnet revealed the green accent. She carried a bouquet of bronze and white pompoms.

MR. GEORGE Mentzer, Pottstown RD 3, was best man. Mother of the bride, Mrs. Edward Dengler, Birdsboro RD 1, wore a navy blue dress with pink accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose green with brown accessories.

1940 Coventry Graduates Hold Sunnybrook Reunion

After games for the children and prizes to adults, Mrs. Joyce Snaford for having traveled farthest, Mrs. Eleanor Barr for having the youngest child, and Mrs. Frances Leugard for having the most children present, a covered dish supper was followed by a short business meeting.
